Public Health Cubed Seed Funding

A rapid funding mechanism for Institute for Public Health faculty scholars working in teams

HOW IT WORKS

Each faculty scholar in the Institute for Public Health receives a virtual credit of $5,000. If teams of three get together with a new idea or project related to gun violence as a public health issue they can cash in their combined credits of $15,000 to conduct multidisciplinary research or education. Teams will receive notice of funding award in under one month from idea submission.

PH³ CYCLE 1.0—2015-2016

Idea Submission Periods
- Spring: May 15 to June 15, 2015
- Fall: September 15 to October 15, 2015
- Winter: January 15 to February 15, 2016

TEAM TYPES

Team types include Regular, Community Partner, and Institute Center Partner. At least two (2) faculty members in each group must be Institute Scholars (i.e. except for “regular” teams which require three faculty scholars, see below). To find a list of Institute scholars, visit publichealth.wustl.edu/scholars.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team Type</th>
<th># of faculty scholars</th>
<th># of schools</th>
<th># of disciplines</th>
<th># of other partners</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Regular</td>
<td>three (3) faculty scholars</td>
<td>from at least two (2) different WU schools</td>
<td>representing at least two (2) different disciplines</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Community Partner</td>
<td>two (2) faculty scholars</td>
<td>from two (2) different WU schools</td>
<td>representing two (2) different disciplines</td>
<td>one (1) community partner</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Institute Center Partner</td>
<td>two (2) faculty scholars</td>
<td>from two (2) different WU schools</td>
<td>representing at least two (2) different disciplines</td>
<td>one (1) Institute for Public Health Center</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

MORE INFORMATION

To learn more about public health cubed funding, eligibility and award details, and to apply online during an active idea submission period, visit publichealth.wustl.edu/news/public-health-cubed.

To become a faculty scholar in the Institute, visit publichealth.wustl.edu/about/become-faculty-scholar.