Lessons from the application of digital health across specialties
8:30 – 10 AM (FLTC Connor Auditorium, 520 S. Euclid Avenue St. Louis, MO 63110)

- Avik Som: Translating digital health research to the community, challenges, lessons, and next steps
  - Founder - Chief Medical and Scientific Officer, Epharmix
- Will Ross, MD: Applications of digital health to dialysis adherence and nephrology
  - Associate Dean for Diversity, Professor, Division of Nephrology, PI Epharmix Research Center
- Anne Glowinski, MD: Applications to depression, particularly in children
  - Professor of Childhood Psychiatry
- Melvin Blanchard, MD: Quality improvement projects, teaching residents, and preventing hospitalizations using digital health
  - Professor of Medicine, President Association of Program Directors of Internal Medicine

10 – 11 AM
- Gregory Polites, MD: Mentoring medical students in digital health research
  - Associate Professor, Emergency Medicine
- Adrian Shifren, MD: Lessons in COPD management with digital health tools
  - Associate Professor, Pulmonary Medicine
- Justin Huynh, MD: Hypertension and diabetes management in the community using digital health
  - Virtual Care Center, Mercy

11 – 12:30 PM
- Nupur Ghoshal, MD: Applications to neurology, and next steps
  - Assistant Professor, Neurology
- Lawrence Lewis, MD: Applications to continuity of care, discharge referral
  - Professor, Emergency Medicine
- Stephanie Lessmeier, M. Ed, LPC, NCC: Suicide prevention – Hope After Program
  - Provident St. Louis
- Keynote: Walter Gilbert, PhD: Topic – Translating Science to Industry
  - Nobel Laureate, Epharmix Advisor, Founder Biogen and Myriad Genetics

12:30-2:30 Lunch + Poster Session (FLTC Atrium)
- Poster Session
- Hands on workshop area - building your own digital health intervention for medical students to faculty, advice on development to clinical trial grant to IRB application and implementation in the clinic

2:30-5 PM (FLTC Connor Auditorium, 520 S. Euclid Avenue St. Louis, MO 63110)

Abstract and poster presenters TBD

- Jonathan Byrd, MD: Applications of digital health for primary care management
  - Assistant Professor of Clinical Medicine (Primary Care)
- Speaker TBD, Applications in Surgery (Surgical Site Infection and Physical Therapy)
- Camaryn Chrisman-Robbins, MD: Applications to maternal health and breastfeeding using digital health
  - Associate Professor, Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology

7 PM – Casual drinks with Dr. Gilbert (Invitation only for select abstract poster and presenters)