According To A New Study, Patients Are Texting, Smoking, Or Tweeting During Appointments
Forbes | 10/28/20
In the age of telehealth therapy, Dr. Jessi Gold writes about study findings that say a large percentage of patients multitask during their sessions.

The New York Times | 10/29/20
Rachel Sachs discusses Remdesivir, the first COVID-19 treatment fully approved by the FDA, and the financials behind it.

Wash U’s Dr. Tiffany Osborn Busts Some Mask Myths
97.1 FM Talk | 10/28/20
Listen to Dr. Tiffany Osborn debunk myths about wearing masks and provide information about the effectiveness of the various types.

Secret of Naked Mole Rats Finally Revealed: They Kidnap Each Other’s Babies!
Science Times | 10/27/20
Dr. Stan Braude discusses the discovery that naked mole rat colonies kidnap each other’s babies to boost their colonies’ strength.

Can China Become A Leading Producer Of Covid-19 Vaccines?
South China Morning Post | 10/27/20
Dr. Michael Kinch comments on China’s progress toward a vaccine.

More Americans Are Being Infected With The Coronavirus Than At Any Time During The Pandemic, But People Are Too Tired To Care
Business Insider | 10/26/20
As the pandemic continues, exhaustion is setting in and people are seeking relief and normalcy, sometimes at the expense of safety. Faculty scholar Dr. Matifadza Hlatshwayo-Davis comments.

Parson Administration Did Remove Almost 100,000 Kids From Medicaid, As Galloway Said
Politifact | 10/23/20
Center for Health Economics and Policy co-director Dr. Tim McBride comments on Nicole Galloway’s claims about Gov. Parson’s Medicaid pullbacks.

FDA Approves Remdesivir As First Coronavirus Drug
Politico | 10/22/20
Rachel Sachs speaks on the effects of the FDA’s approval of the first COVID-19 drug, Remdesivir.

How to Cope With Reemergence Anxiety During COVID
Rewire | 10/20/20
Don’t feel normal within our “new normal”? Dr. Jessi Gold offers advice on how to go about ensuring a healthy life and relationships.

Naked Mole-rats Invade Neighboring Colonies And Steal Babies
Science News | 10/20/20
Dr. Stan Braude explains how naked mole rats have a habit of kidnapping neighboring colonies’ babies in order to up their numbers.

The Pandemic is Rewriting the Rules of Science. But At What Cost?
The Washington Post | 10/19/20
Eric Lenze, MD, discusses a study he conducted and what it reveals about science in this pandemic era.

Progressive Group Highlights Trump, Tillis Weakness On Insulin Price Tags
Politifact | 10/19/20
Rachel Sachs, JD, MPH, discusses the reality of President Trump’s insulin plan.

Ailments in Covid-19 Trials Raise Questions About Vaccine Method
Bloomberg | 10/17/20
Michael Kinch, PhD, discusses what can be gleaned from two vaccine developers’ announcements that potential side effects have stalled their clinical trials.

Poll Finds Only 51% Of Missourians Would Get A Coronavirus Vaccine
STL Public Radio | 10/16/20
As a recent poll suggests that only about half of Missourians would get a coronavirus vaccine, Faculty Scholar Dr. Hilary Babcock puts those numbers into perspective.

Washington University Starts Clinical Trial For Drugs To Build Immunity For Covid-19 Patient
KMOV 4 | 10/16/20
Institute Director Dr. Bill Powderly provides information on the anti-inflammatory drug trials WashU is undergoing in the hopes of discovering an effective COVID-19 treatment.

Washington University Announces Study Of Anti-inflammatory Drugs In Covid-19 Patients
Larry J. Shapiro Director for the Institute for Public Health Dr. Bill Powderly is leading a new clinical trial to test whether anti-inflammatory drugs have a positive effect on patients with COVID-19.

'We Know It Could Go Either Way' | How A St. Louis Program Is Breaking The Cycle Of Violence
KSDK 5 | 10/15/20
Learn how the Life Outside of Violence program has had a positive impact on St. Louisans injured by preventable violence.

J&J Halts Covid-19 Vaccine Trial Due to Unexplained Illness
Bloomberg |10/14/20
Michael Kinch discusses J&J's decision to halt COVID-19 vaccine trials and what that can tell us about vaccine development.

Plexiglass Shields Are Everywhere, But It's Not Clear How Much They Help
CNN Business | 10/14/20
Wonder if plexiglass shields are enough? Dr. Pratim Biswas discusses their shortcomings.

Naked Mole-Rats Will Invade Other Colonies And Steal Their Pups, Study Finds
IFL Science | 10/14/20
Dr. Stan Braude discusses patterns of naked mole rat infant kidnappings between colonies.

Washington University Gets Nearly $15 Million To Study Racial Differences In Alzheimer's
St. Louis Post-Dispatch | 10/13/20
Chengjie Xiong, PhD comments on why there is insufficient information on how Alzheimer’s is experienced by African Americans.

Naked Mole Rats Invade Neighbouring Colonies And Kidnap Their Babies
New Scientist | 10/09/20
Dr. Stan Braude discusses patterns of naked mole rat infant kidnappings between colonies.

Trump's Promised Drug Discount Cards For Seniors Have Become A 'Last-minute, Thrown-together' Fiasco
The Week | 10/08/20
Rachel Sachs, JD, MPH, comments on the logistics of President Trump’s drug discount card plan that has become a “fiasco”.

President Trump Could Be Contagious 20 Days After COVID-19 Diagnosis, Doctor Says
KSDK 5 | 10/08/20
Feeling better isn’t an indicator of not being contagious with the coronavirus according to Dr. Steven Lawrence. Find out what this may mean for post-infection quarantining.
Trump’s Operation Warp Speed Could Be A Success. The Problem is Trump.
Vox | 10/07/20
As public and private sector collaborations are leading to vaccine progress in record time, Rachel Sachs, JD, MPH discusses how Trump’s vaccine comments are creating a sense of distrust among the public that could undermine progress.

Can 6 Feet Protect Against COVID-19? New Research Indicates Minimum of 10 to 12 Feet for Protection
HEC Media | 10/07/20
Aerosol scientist Dr. Pratim Biswas says that six feet of distance isn’t enough and recommends 10 to 12 are the minimum for safety from COVID-19 infection. Learn more here.

Amid Historic Race, Voters Of Color Wrestle With Harris’ Personal And Political Identities
PBS Newshour | 10/07/20
Faculty Scholar, Shanti Parikh, PhD comments on her identity as a Black and Indian woman in the U.S. to shed light on discussions around Vice Presidential nominee, Kamala Harris’ experiences with racial identity.

15 Things Therapists Do When They’re Anxious Watching The Debates
HuffPost | 10/07/20
Presidential politics triggering anxiety? Check out these tips that therapists, including Dr. Jessi Gold, advise for calming those nerves.

St. Louis Symphony to Resume Live Concerts at Powell Hall Next Week
Riverfront Times | 10/06/20
Drs. Stephen Liang and Abigail Carlson offered their expert guidance to the St. Louis Symphony on how to restructure live concerts in a way that is socially distant and safer amidst COVID-19.

St. Louis Contact Tracers Confront A Lack Of Trust When Working As Disease Detectives
STL Public Radio | 10/06/20
Dr. Mati Hlatshwayo-Davis comments on possible POC distrust of contact tracers’ phone calls.

A Senior’s Lifetime Experiences Help Generate Resilience To Pandemic Trauma
CNN Health | 10/06/20
Despite the pandemic narrative’s tendency to paint seniors as frail and dependent, Dr. Brian Carpenter discusses the resiliency of older adults and how many have expanded their networks amidst the pandemic.

31 Surprising Signs You'll Live to 100
Men’s Health | 10/05/20
Want to increase your chances of a longer, healthier life? Luigi Fontana, MD, PhD, is mentioned in this article offering advice about nutrition habits that can lead to younger hearts.

Boosting Your Baby’s Bugs
U.S. News | 10/05/20
Want to make sure your baby has strong, healthy bugs? Dr. Gautam Dantas discusses the possible damaging effects antibiotics can have on infants.

Sound On: Trump Medical Treatment, Stimulus, 2020 (Podcast)
Bloomberg | 10/05/20
Dr. Michael Kinch joins this podcast to discuss current events surrounding the White House and coronavirus.

Experts Uncertain If the President’s Drug Import Plan Will Save Consumers Money
Healthline | 10/03/20
Rachel Sachs discusses the President’s drug import plan and his claims that it will save consumers money.

The ACA is going back to the Supreme Court. Will Missouri Medicaid expansion survive?
Springfield News-Leader | 10/03/20
CHEP co-director Dr. Tim McBride discusses how “disruptive” striking down the Affordable Care Act could be for the fate of insurance in MO.

SC Experts Sound Off As 2 JAMA Studies Shed New Light On Drug Use During Pregnancy
The Post and Courier | 10/05/20
Dr. Ryan Bogdan discusses the implications of drug use during pregnancy on children.

For Your Health: Continuing To Stay Socially Connected While Physically Distanced
Siteman Cancer Center News | 10/02/30
Feeling socially isolated and don’t know what you can do about it? Deputy Director for the Institute for Public Health Dr. Graham Colditz lists recommendations for taking control of our social and mental health.

“Quarantine Fatigue” Is Real
Teen Vogue | 10/02/20
Don’t know how to describe the feelings of just being so “over it” when it comes to quarantine? Dr. Jessi Gold delves into the experience of “quarantine fatigue”.