Black Girlhood Studies in Conversation with

Dr. Nikki Jones

Moderators: Dr. Kenly Brown & Nya Hardaway

Nikki Jones is a Professor of African American Studies at UC Berkeley. Her work focuses on the experiences of Black women, men, and youth with the criminal legal system, policing, and violence.

In this conversation, Dr. Jones will share her expertise on how Black women and girls stay safe, Black feminisms, and her contribution to the field of Black girlhood studies.

Register Here

Apr 8 • 12:00 PM to 1:00 PM CST

Funded by the Center for Race, Ethnicity & Equity and co-sponsored with African and African American Studies, the Institute for Public Health, American Culture Studies, and Women, Gender, & Sexuality Studies.